THE BANDS

Kicaberry / Josh has a beautiful voice, both strong and sincere. Alongside him is Cara drumming or strumming away, who beautifully compliments this duo. They currently have a monthly London residency.

The Wuntars / Five lads on a guitar-fuelled melodic quest. Having stormed London and recently been interviewed by BBC's Steve Lamacq this band look to have a bright future.

Napoleon In Rags / If you missed them supporting Babyshambles or their set at Glastonbury, then this is your chance to witness a truly great performance. Having been compared to Franz Ferdinand, like them this band produce catchy tunes you'll find hard to get out of your head

Bullfrog Blues / Covering popular rhythm and blues tracks from renowned artists such as B.B.King and Muddy Waters, they have gained a loyal following. A crowd pleaser, guaranteed to get your feet tapping.

Stayed As Quo / Bringing you all your Quo favourites is top tribute band Stayed As Quo. Having toured the UK and festival scene you could say they have made rather a name for themselves.

Theo Altieri / "Young and overly talented" (Wired, Jan 10). With superb guitar playing and a voice far more developed than his age, this young solo artist brings you catchy alternative indie folk music not to be missed.

The Off Chance / Providing accessible folk music with a gloriously upbeat vibe and layers of wonderful vocals. This memorable band are the perfect accompaniment to a summer evening.

Makin' Muzik / Not your average church choir, Makin' Muzik will be spicing up the evening with an eclectic mix of songs.

Pignose / Old-hands at the Big Gig, they are back once again, but as you have never heard them before.

DoubleYouB / Talent from our very own village comes in the form of Jaz and Ellie. Their first live performance on stage - good luck guys!
